

Ledger

Adagio Ledger provides a complete General Ledger for your business. Batch transaction management ensures only approved and balanced entries are posted to your ledger.

- 6 character account and 6 character optional department validated during data entry
- Includes the same award-winning Financial Reporter that is in Adagio FX (see following page)
- 12 or 13 period fiscal year, with historical, budget, forecast and statistical figures available for reporting
- Keep unlimited history, including transaction details.
- See all transactions that comprise a balanced entry on a transaction inquiry
- A single financial statement can compare up to 10 years of account activity
- Start a new year before closing the current year.
- Create next year's budget or forecast figures without having to open a new year
- De-activate accounts or close periods to prevent posting errors
- Trial Balance and transaction listings for any year, any range of periods
- Provisionally post transactions to verify their effect before committing them
- Automatically re-allocate balances to other accounts or departments
- Create new departments by copying a previously created department
